1.1 Philosophy

We believe that every child is unique. Our aim is to provide broad, balanced, personalised learning experiences that will enable them to be healthy, stay-safe, enjoy and achieve, make a positive contribution and to achieve economic well-being.

At Mark Rutherford School all children and young people are entitled to an education that enables them to make progress so that they:

- achieve their best
- become confident individuals living fulfilling lives, and
- make a successful transition into adulthood, whether into employment, further or higher education or training

Every teacher at Mark Rutherford School is a teacher of every child including those with SEND.

Development

At the outset of the review of the SEN Policy the school invited families of students with SEN to participate in the review and development of the new policy. A consultation period was identified that allowed enough time for all stakeholders to engage with reviewing the current policy in light of the 2014 Code of Practice this was to ensure that the policy that is created is compliant with the code and enshrines the spirit of the code of practice to empower and involve families of, and young people with SEN. This is reviewed annually with parents, students and the SEN school governor.

1.2 Definition of Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND)

This policy is written to comply with the statutory guidance June 2014 and January 2015 'Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice 0 to 25 years' which relates to part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014. It relates to children and young people with special educational needs (SEND) and disabled children and young people.

A 'young person' is defined as a person over compulsory school age and under 25. Compulsory school age ends on the last Friday in June in the academic year in which the young person becomes 16. Children are below 16 years of age. In this policy, the term 'student' refers to both children and young people who are, or who will be (in the discussion of transition) members of Mark Rutherford School.

'Parents' is the term used for all those with parental responsibility, including corporate parents and carers.

Special Educational Need (SEND) is defined as:

'A child or young person has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:

- has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional or different from that made generally for children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.’ (Code of Practice 2014, 2015).

Students who experience difficulty in accessing the curriculum may also have a particular gift or talent. This is addressed through the More Able and Talented Provision, in addition to provisions made for their specific need.

Special Educational Provision may be triggered when students fail to achieve adequate progress, despite having had access to a differentiated programme and quality first teaching. Parents and staff will be informed that the student has special educational needs and appropriate provision identified to meet the student’s individual need(s) will be made.

2. Aim

Mark Rutherford School is committed to raising the aspirations of and expectations for all students, including those with SEND. SEND Support provides a focus on outcomes for students in terms of development and achievement. See SEND information:

http://www.markrutherford.beds.sch.uk/information_SEND.asp

2.1 Objectives

- To identify and provide for students who have special educational needs and additional needs
- To work within the guidance provided in the SEND Code of Practice 2014
- To operate a “whole pupil, whole school” approach to the management and provision of support for special educational needs
- To provide a Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator (SENDCo) who will work with the SEN Inclusion Policy
- To provide support and advice for all staff working with special educational needs pupils

3. Identifying special educational needs.

The SEND Code of Practice identifies four broad areas of need; Mark Rutherford School recognises that a student’s needs may fall into one or more of the categories:

Communication and interaction

Children and young people with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulty in communicating with others. This may be because they have difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is being said to them or they do not understand or use social rules of communication. The profile for every child with SLCN is different and their needs may change over time. They may have difficulty with one, some or all of the different aspects of speech, language or social communication at different times of their lives. Children and young people with ASD, including Asperger's Syndrome and Autism, are likely to have particular difficulties with social interaction. They may also experience difficulties with language, communication and imagination, which can impact on how they relate to others.

Cognition and learning

Support for learning difficulties may be required when children and young people learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation. Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs, including moderate learning difficulties (MLD), severe learning difficulties (SLD), where children are likely to need support in all areas of the curriculum and associated difficulties with mobility and communication, through to profound and multiple learning difficulties (PMLD), where children are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment. Specific learning difficulties (SpLD), affect one or more specific aspects of learning. This encompasses a range of conditions such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia.

Social, emotional and mental health difficulties

Children and young people may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. These behaviours may reflect underlying mental health difficulties such as anxiety or depression, self-harming, substance misuse, eating disorders or physical symptoms that are medically unexplained. Other children and young people may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.

Sensory and/or physical needs

Some children and young people require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided. These difficulties can be age related and may fluctuate over time. Many children and young people with vision impairment (VI), hearing impairment (HI) or a multi-sensory impairment (MSI) will require specialist support and/or equipment to access their learning. Some children and young people with a physical disability (PD) require additional ongoing support and equipment to access all the opportunities available to their peers.

The purpose of identification of these 4 broad areas of needs is to support the school to work out what action needs to take to support the individual learner, rather than to match the learners to need.

Mark Rutherford School recognises that many factors impact upon progress and attainment; these are not special educational needs and include:

- Attendance and Punctuality
- Health and Welfare
- EAL
- Being in receipt of Pupil Premium Grant
- Being a Looked After Child
- Being a child of a Serviceman/ woman

3.2 Curriculum Support (provision) is achieved by:

1. Identifying and assessing individual student's needs.
2. Reporting of students' needs to all members of school staff.
3. Providing an appropriate curriculum taking into account;
 - National Curriculum and examination syllabuses
 - Continuity and Progression
 - Departmental Development plans.
 - A curriculum that shows intent, implantation and impact
4. Delivering an appropriate curriculum, taking into account;
 - Suitable teaching materials
 - Effective, differentiated teaching strategies
 - A supportive learning environment
 - Ensuring all learning is sequential
5. Providing learning support through;
 - Curriculum development
 - Support teaching
 - Bespoke training
 - INSET
6. Using outside agencies where necessary and appropriate.

7. Monitoring individual progress and making revisions where necessary.
8. Ensuring that parents understand the process and involving them in the support of their child's learning.
9. Encouraging students with SEND to actively participate in all decision making processes and contributing to the assessment of their needs, meetings and transition process.
10. Making regular reports to governors regarding SEND issues to raise awareness and to aid implementation of processes and procedures.
11. Teaching Assistants and teachers collaborate effectively

4. A Graduated Approach to SEN

The school uses the graduated response as outlined in "The Code of Practice (2014)". Mark Rutherford School recognises that quality first teaching, differentiated for individual pupils, is paramount for all learners and the first step in response for pupils who have or may have SEND. Subject specialist teachers are responsible for providing an appropriate and challenging curriculum for all students. Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the students in their classes, including where pupils access support from teaching assistants or specialist staff. To help with this process a variety of screening procedures are used, which are then disseminated to teaching staff via the SEN department.

4.1 New Intake Students in Year 7 and 12

a) Feeder school liaison

Feeder schools are visited/ contacted throughout the year prior to transfer. Any student identified as having a 'learning difficulty' and who is on SEN Support or EHC plan or is referred to the SENDCo. Contact is then made with the feeder school.

Bedford Borough notifies the school about students who are transferring with EHC plans in the autumn term. The SENDCo or SENDCo Assistant will endeavour to attend their annual review to ensure a smooth transition is made.

In the summer term parents are invited to meet the SENDCo to share information and work co-operatively to create a pupil passport.

b) Initial Screening across KS3

- KS2 tests
- New Group Reading test
- WRAT spelling test

- Tests undertaken by the SENDCo as identified
- CAT4 testing in year 7

4.2 Screening in Other Year Groups

Other screening tests are administered when required, particularly within year 9 to ensure appropriate access arrangements are in place in KS4 and KS5.

4.3 Individual Diagnostic Assessments

Individual diagnostic assessments are used for students as required. A battery of tests is available, including the Access Reading and Maths assessments, LUCID Exact, Diagnostic Reading Analysis, Comprehensive Test of Phonological Processing (CTOPP 2), Strengths and Difficulties Questionnaire (SDQ) and self-esteem questionnaire. The results of these assessments are made available to staff via the Learning Support Centre and shared with parents and students.

4.4 Staff Observation

- All Staff at Mark Rutherford are teachers of every child. Members of staff consult with the SENDCo if they notice students who may need specialist help during the school year. Evidence for that concern must be produced, alongside evidence of the differentiation of quality first teaching prior to any testing and/ or additional intervention being undertaken.
- The SENDCo may then ask for additional diagnostic assessment to be undertaken for other professionals.

4.5 Referrals by Parents

- A student's parent may express concern. Once information is gathered the process is the same as for staff referrals.
- All parental referrals are acted upon in a timely way.

4.6 Provision

Teaching students with SEND is a whole school responsibility. Central to the work of every teacher and subject is a continuous cycle of planning, teaching, assessment and evaluation that takes account of the wide range of abilities, aptitudes and interests of the students. The majority of students at Mark Rutherford learn and progress through these differentiated arrangements.

A Graduated Response is adopted for students identified as having SEND. A level and type of support is provided to enable the student to achieve adequate progress. Provision is identified and managed by the SENDCo but will be planned and delivered by teaching and support staff.

4.7 Graduated Response

Wave 1 – Quality first teaching by all teaching staff

Wave 2 – specific, additional and time-limited interventions provided for some children who need help to accelerate their progress to enable them to work at or above age-related expectations.

Wave 2 interventions are initiated by departments through robust assessment arrangements.

Criteria for Wave 2 include:

- Low numeracy/ literacy scores
- Level 3 and below in KS2 SATs
- Scores significantly below 100 in CATS tests
- Teacher's observations
- Information from previous school
- Concerns from staff or parents.

Provision from within the school's resources is identified to help meet the student's needs.

Interventions may include:

- Additional learning program's such as Literacy and Numeracy, study skills, social skills and touch typing. Lexia power up or Core 5.
- Smaller group sessions
- Appropriate teaching groups/ sets
- Group support from a teaching assistant on a regular basis.
- Booster classes
- Additional staff training

Wave 3 - Where students fail to make adequate progress, despite additional provision at Wave 2, targeted provision is made for a minority of children through the provision of highly tailored intervention to accelerate progress or enable children to achieve their potential. The school may seek advice and involvement from external support services. They are requested to:

- Provide specialist assessments.

- Give advice on teaching strategies or materials
- Provide short-term support or training for staff.
- Timetable support

The pupil passport is revised and new strategies are put in place following the involvement of student and parents. Should the assessments identify that the student requires additional provision on a regular basis for an extended period then the school will apply for additional resources. This application will be evaluated against criteria established by Bedford Borough. The SENDCo may apply for additional support through the completion of an Early Help Assessment.

The SENDCo is responsible, on a daily basis, for providing support and mentoring, allocates students with Education Health and Care plans (EHCP), a specified amount of support. The process of target setting, monitoring and reviewing remains the same as at Wave 2.

4.8 pupil passports and Reviews

The strategies that will be employed at Wave 2, Wave 3 and for students with EHC plans are recorded in the pupil passport that reflects provision that is additional to, or different from, normal differentiated provision. Not all students with SEND have a pupil passport, their progress is closely monitored.

Contents of the pupil passport include:

- Further information on the needs of the student
- Strategies to put in place
- Support/ additional provision in place to support the student
- Data referring to attainment and specific needs.
- Access Arrangement Information

The pupil passport is communicated to all staff who support the student's learning and to the parents and student.

Pupil passports are continually reviewed and updated. New targets will be identified and set with teaching staff providing feedback to tutors prior to the meeting.

4.9 Provision of an appropriate curriculum

Through their departmental improvement plans, the SEF and in conjunction with EHC plans, provision for students with SEND is regularly reviewed and revised. It is the responsibility of individual departments at the school to ensure that the requirements of the National Curriculum are met for those students with SEND in partnership with the Learning Support Centre.

4.10 Provision of Curriculum Support

The Learning Support Centre can help subject areas in the following ways (although this is not an exhaustive list):

a) Curriculum development

- Planning with individual members of staff/ departments.
- Selection/ design and preparation of suitable materials.
- Selection/ design of teaching strategies.

b) Support teaching:

This is achieved by working collaboratively with a subject teacher. The SENDCo can assist by:

- Planning appropriate programmes of work.
- Preparation of relevant and differentiated materials
- Team and individual teaching.
- Helping to facilitate a wide range of teaching and learning styles.
- Evaluating and reviewing what has been achieved.

c) Withdrawal

Some students with SEND may be withdrawn 1:1 or within small group sessions or to use technological support; the withdrawal of students is kept to an absolute minimum, in accordance with the inclusive ethos of Mark Rutherford School.

d) In-Service Training

- The SENDCo provides INSET for student teachers, NQTs and other new staff on SEN procedure at Mark Rutherford School.
- Whole-school CPD, focussing on specific needs is included on staff training days and during twilight sessions.
- Individual departments can ask for INSET from the SENDCo as required for specific purposes or generic training.

5: Criteria for exiting the SEN register

Many students' needs are met by quality first teaching. These students do not need to be recorded on the SEND register. Information relating to their individual learning needs is shared with teachers and they are regularly monitored to ensure they are making adequate progress.

When students make progress in line with their abilities they are able to be removed from the SEND register. This decision is based on evidence of achievement and the decision to exit the SEND register is shared with parents and students. The SEND register is regularly reviewed and parents are encouraged to participate in discussions relating to their child's learning needs through discussions with the SENDCo, tutors and consultation evenings.

6: Supporting Pupils and Families

Mark Rutherford School is committed to supporting students with SEND and their families. We actively seek to work with parents and value the contributions they make.

- Student and parental views are recorded as part of the annual review procedures
- Parents are actively encouraged to help their child in many ways, for example: hearing their child read and learning spellings, discussing their school day
- Students and parents are encouraged to attend consultation evenings where their child's progress is discussed with subject teachers.
- Students and parents are encouraged to attend Academic Mentoring where overall progress is discussed and targets are reviewed and set.
- Effective communication is achieved through regular contact with home either through email, letters, phone calls or the student's planner.
- New parents can attend the Open Evening in the October prior to transfer.

Students who require access arrangements for examinations and other assessments are assessed using the current JCQ guidance. The guidance sets out the process followed by the school where subject teachers identify and evidence the normal way of working of the student so they are not unfairly disadvantaged in examinations and assessments. They are then assessed by the SENDCO who will ensure a form 8 is completed and request an access arrangement. This information is shared with subject teachers and the exams officer within school and parents and students. Students are provided with a card summarising the arrangements in place for them and are encouraged to discuss assessment plans with their teachers.

When a student reaches a transition point in their education Mark Rutherford School is committed to ensuring a smooth and successful transition. Records of students are forwarded to new placements. Additional induction days are arranged as required for all students with SEND and other vulnerabilities.

Section 7: Supporting Pupils at school with medical conditions

Mark Rutherford School recognises that students at school with medical conditions should be properly supported so that they have full access to education, including school trips and PE lessons. Some children with medical conditions may be disabled and where this is the case the school will comply with its duties under the Equality Act 2010.

Some students with medical conditions may also have SEN and may have an EHC Plan which brings together health and social care needs, as well as their special educational provision and the SEND Code of Practice (2014) is followed.

Students who are unable to attend school due to their medical needs are supported by the hospital treatment Team. It supports young people who are temporarily unable to attend school full time due to illness, following medical treatment or because of admission to Bedford Hospital. They provide limited tutoring to teach in schools, libraries or in Bedford Hospital, working closely with the school. Mark Rutherford School liaises closely with families, health professionals and tutors to ensure that disruption to schooling is minimal.

8: Monitoring and Evaluation of SEND

Monitoring of individual progress is completed rigorously by subject departments and houses, academic mentoring and screening assessments and other assessment procedure described in the school's assessment policy.

9: Training and Resources

The school is funded to meet the needs of all their students through its core budget but is additionally funded to support provision for SEND through:

- Deprivation and underachievement factors, based on the number of students receiving free meals and those underachieving on entry.

- The Nightingale ASC Provision is funded separately as an enhanced resource provision.
- The SENDCO is allocated a departmental capitation each financial year.

Staff training needs are identified through the performance management and review procedures that are in place within Mark Rutherford School. All staff are encouraged to maintain and further develop the quality of teaching and provision to respond to the strengths and needs of all pupils, all staff are encouraged to undertake training and development.

All teachers and support staff participate in a comprehensive induction programme in taking up post and this includes a meeting with the SENDCo to explain the systems and structures in place around the schools SEND provision and practice, and to discuss the needs of individual pupils.

The SENDCO regularly attends Bedford Borough SENDCo network meetings in order to keep up to date with local and national updates in SEND. The SENDCo maintains NASEN membership to ensure up to date knowledge of national developments and best practice in SEND.
